

"Don't let any of 'em
climb aboard!"

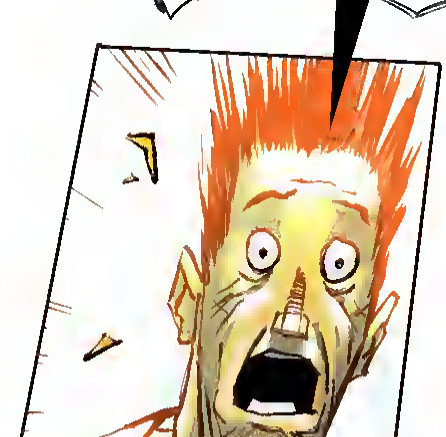
by

Jason Brubaker

WHY aren't you GOING?!

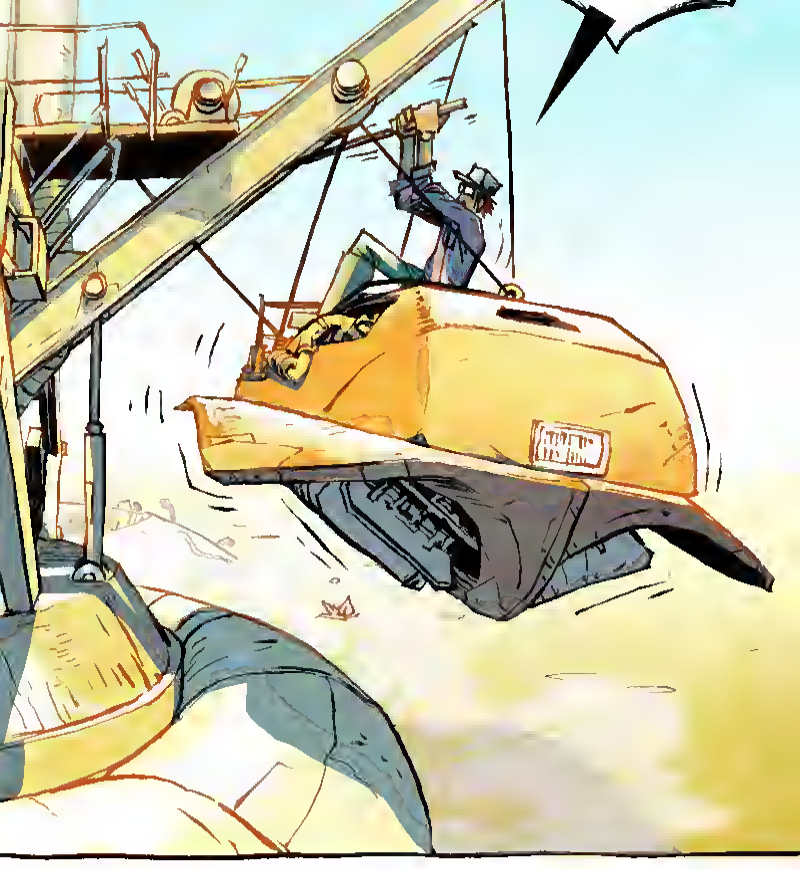
"The little booger's stuck!
Can't --ngh! Can't shake it loose!"

We don't have TIME!!!



GET THAT metal rod up there --

I can use it to pry this lever loose!



Dino?

oh, No--
what are you doing?!

There was something different about these Weebles.

They were more aggressive... more focused than Vonna had ever seen them.

For the first time, she finally understood what her father meant when he said we were all powerless in the face of nature.

And she was afraid that lesson had come too late.

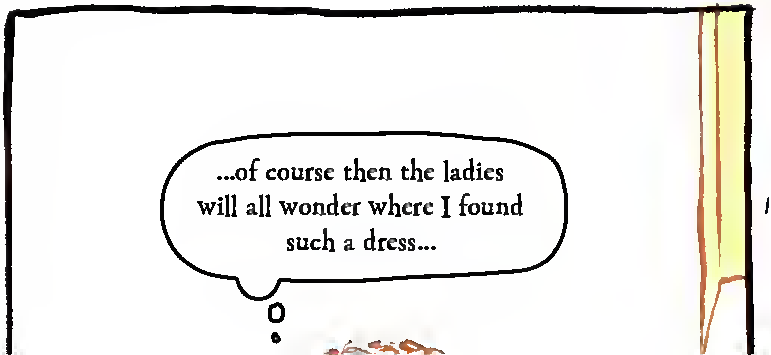
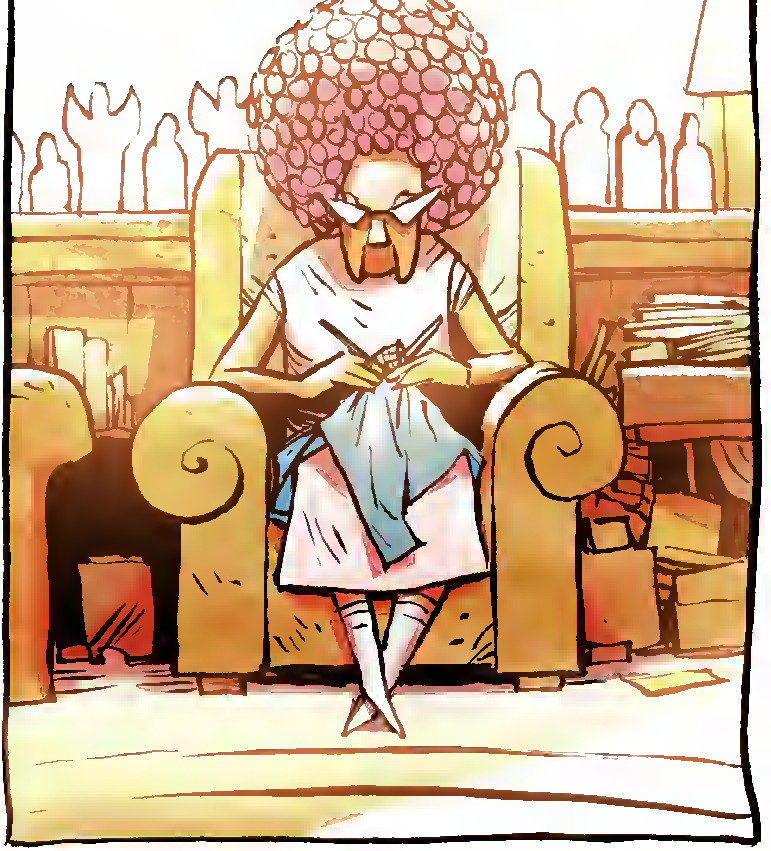
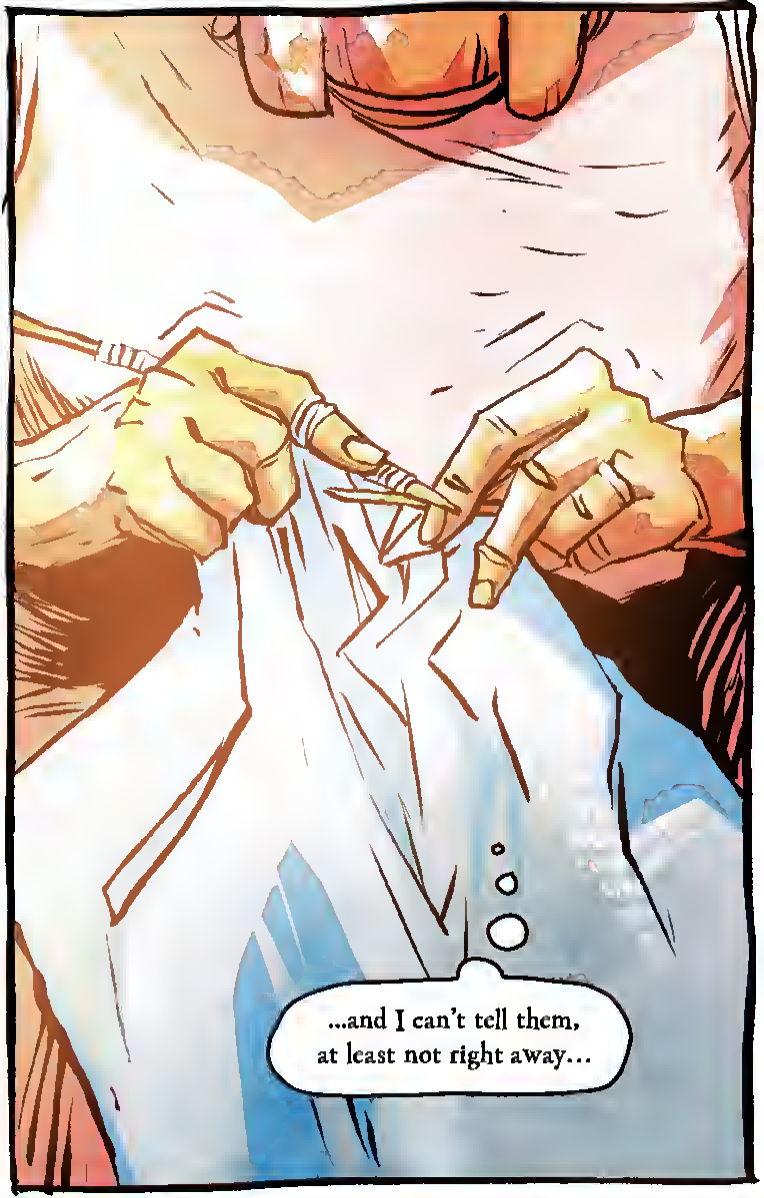
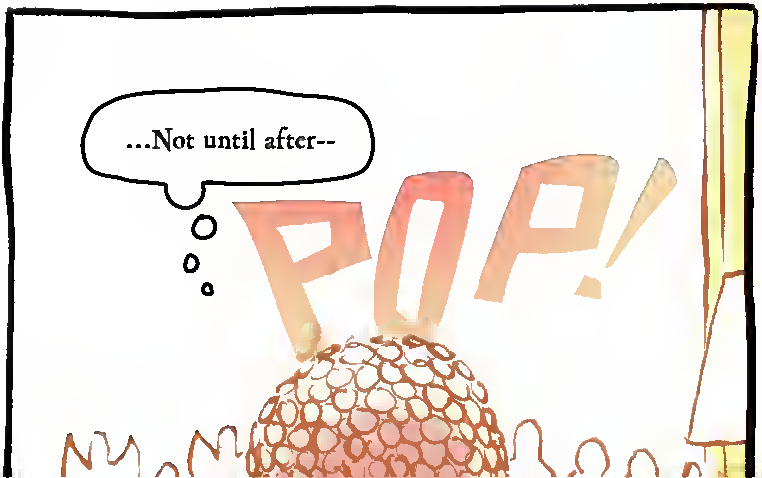
Moments before...



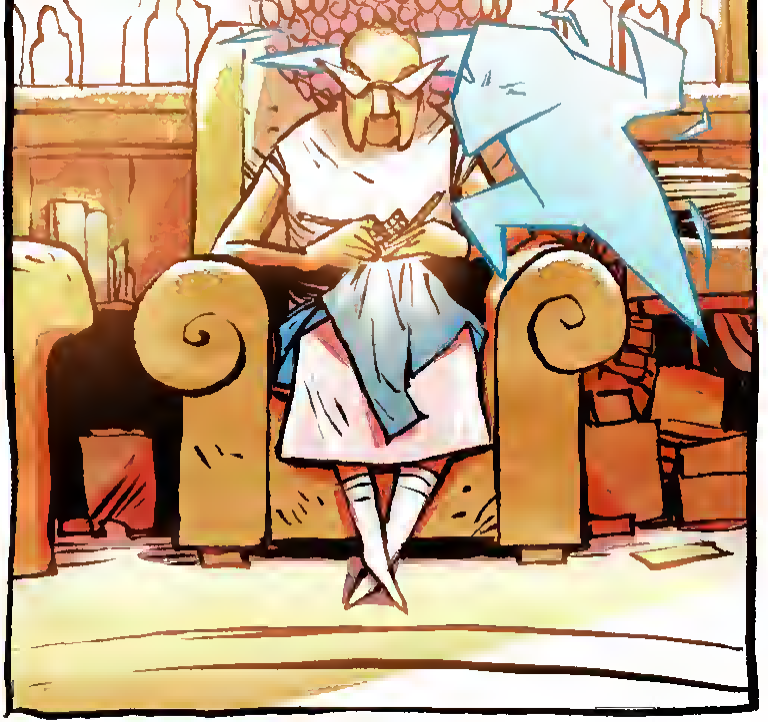


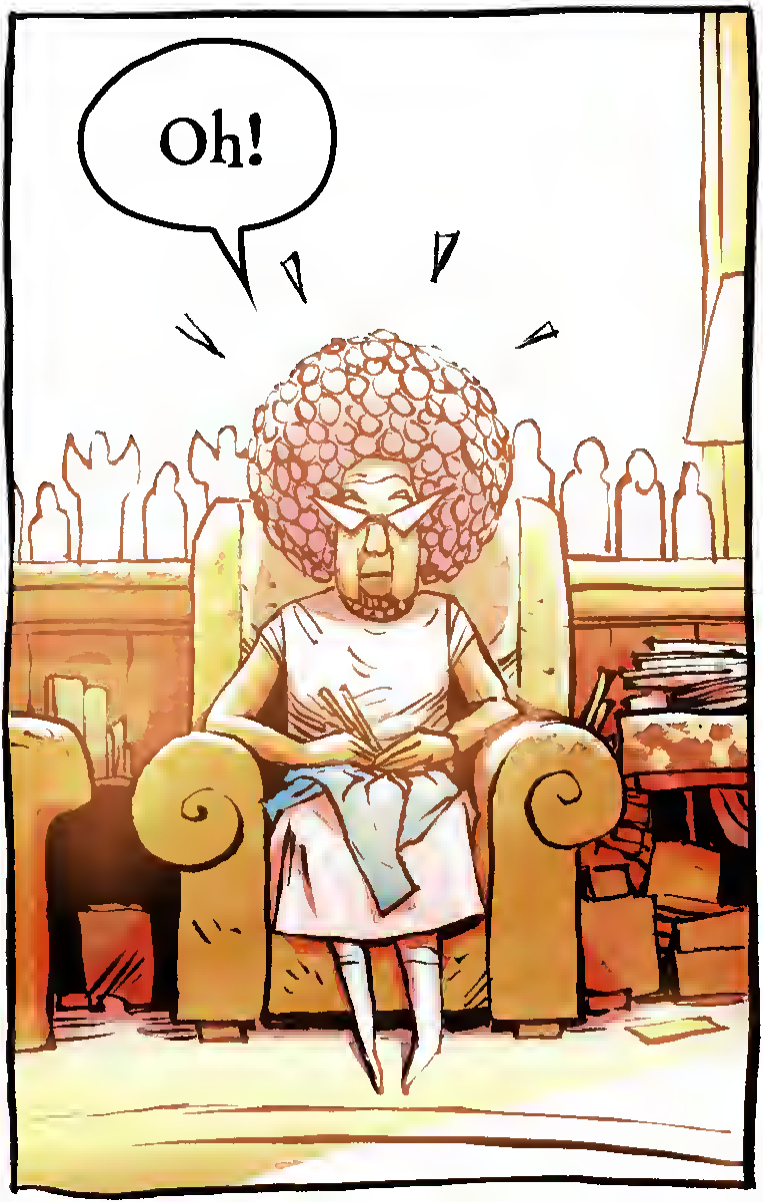


...and I can't tell them,
at least not right away...



...Not until after--
POP!





Oh!

I almost forgot all about her.

Nirvana, sweetie?
Hmm.

Vonna!
Are you still out here?

Did you see where your girl went, kitty?

Oh, heavens!
AHHHHHHHH!
